Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 12 February 2002.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Perry (US patent 4,381,042).

As per claims 1 and 6, Perry teaches a motor vehicle and a method for preventing battery drain caused by an ignition switch through which load circuits are fed remaining on after an engine that has been idling continuously in said motor vehicle for some amount of time has been automatically shutdown by an idle shutdown timing function performed by an engine control system, the method comprising: programming a programmable output of a module of the engine control system to deliver an idle shutdown signal upon the idle shutdown timing function signaling an idle shutdown; connecting an interface between the ignition switch and the load circuits and to the programmable output of the module to control feeding of the load circuits from the ignition switch by allowing the feeding when the ignition switch is on and the programmable output of the module is not signaling an idle shutdown and by disallowing the feeding upon the programmable output signaling an idle shutdown (Figure 1; col. 3, line 61+).

As per claims 2 and 7, Perry teaches connecting an interface between the ignition switch and the load circuits and to the programmable output of the module interface comprising connecting one or more relays between the ignition switch and the load circuits and to the programmable output of the module (Figure 1).

As per claims 3 and 8, Perry teaches connecting one or more relays between the ignition switch and the load circuits and to the programmable output of the module comprising connecting a contact of one relay between some of the load circuits and an ignition terminal of the ignition switch and connecting a contact of another relay between other load circuits and an accessory terminal of the ignition switch (Figure 1).

As per claims 4 and 9, Perry teaches energizing coils of both relays to allow the feeding and de-energizing the coils to disallow the feeding (col. 3, line 61+).

As per claims 5 and 10, Perry teaches connecting a terminal of each coil to the programmable output of the module (Figure 1).

3. Art of general nature relating to idle shutdown circuits has been cited for applicant's review.
